INVITATION

The National Heritage Institute, the Duna-Drava National Park Directorate, the HUN-REN BTK Institute of History, the HUN-REN PPKE-PTE Vilmos Fraknói Vatican Historical Research Group, the Janus Pannonius Museum, the Hungarian National Archives, the Hungarian Historical Society, the Municipality of Mohács, the University of Pécs and the University of Szeged cordially invite you to attend the conference titled

Antemurale Christianitatis – Central Europe and the Western Balkans, Bastions of Christianity.

The aim of the conference is to present the historical situation at the end of the Middle Ages of the countries closely connected with the history of the Kingdom of Hungary and the struggle against the Ottoman Empire - including the Kingdoms of Bohemia and Poland, the Holy Roman Empire and the former states in the present-day territories of Bosnia, Croatia and Serbia.

In addition, the organisers aim to create a forum for the presentation of the latest results of Hungarian research in support of the forthcoming commemorative year, with the participation of the international academic community.

Date:

8-9 December 2024 (Sunday-Monday), 9:00-18:00

Venue:

Várkert Bazár, Event Hall (1013 Budapest, Ybl Miklós square 2-6.)

The conference will be bilingual, with Hungarian-English and English-Hungarian interpretation.

The organisers reserve the right to change the programme.

If you wish to participate, please register on the following platform until 6 December 2024:

The National Heritage Institute, the Duna-Drava National Park Directorate, the HUN-REN BTK Institute of History, the HUN-REN PPKE-PTE Vilmos Fraknói Vatican Historical Research Group, the Janus Pannonius Museum, the Hungarian National Archives, the Hungarian Historical Society, the Municipality of Mohács, the University of Pécs and the University of Szeged cordially invite you to attend the conference titled

Antemurale Christianitatis – Central Europe and the Western Balkans, Bastions of Christianity.

The aim of the conference is to present the historical situation at the end of the Middle Ages of the countries closely connected with the history of the Kingdom of Hungary and the struggle against the Ottoman Empire - including the Kingdoms of Bohemia and Poland, the Holy Roman Empire and the former states in the present-day territories of Bosnia, Croatia and Serbia. In addition, the organisers aim to create a forum for the presentation of the latest results of Hungarian research in support of the forthcoming commemorative year, with the participation of the international academic community.

Date: 8-9 December 2024 (Sunday-Monday), 9:00-18:00 Venue: Várkert Bazár, Event Hall (1013 Budapest, Ybl Miklós square 2-6.)

The conference will be bilingual, with Hungarian-English and English-Hungarian interpretation.

The organisers reserve the right to change the programme.
